Re.: ROHS reports for product Vidaflex SD550

Dear valued customer,

We herewith confirm, that all related, previously issued ROHS GZ0701014447/CHEM, issued on February 2nd, 2007 is still valid. There had been no changes in material composition, raw material sources and production methods. Samples submitted to SGS for testing were taken from existing stock and can be considered representative for product quality despite usual tolerances of technical products and specifications thereof.

With kind regards
